State 86th annual session. She spoke of the Worthy State Master, Arthur Thompson, who said, "the grange has been a help to the farmers for over a century beyond the dreams of our forefathers".

All Granges are to hold an open house in January or February.

The Master and Lecturer visited Bertha Tripp at the Green Pastures Nursing Home on Marion Road, South Middleboro, and suggested the members cheer her with cards.

The Master placed a suggestion box for the good of the order to be opened at the next meeting, when a pot-luck supper will be served at 6:30. The pupils of Jacqueline Bassinet's dancing school will entertain. All Granges are invited.

Refreshments were served by Andrew and Edith Sylvia and Marion and Clifton Hatton. The paper bag auction that was held gave a lot of fun.

The first meeting in December will be overseer's night, and slides of Europe will be shown.

On Friday the members went to the South Middleboro Grange to put on the entertainment. The brought home the prize plaque for attendance

CHESTER SCOTT HOWLAND, WHALING AUTHORITY, HEARD AT ROCHESTER CLUB

At an open meeting held at the Rochester Woman's Club members and guests enjoyed an unusually interesting and stirring lecture on "Whales and Men" presented by Mr. Chester Scott Howland of New Bedford. Mr. Howland is a well known authority on whale hunting, and has lectured at many clubs and colleges throughout the country. He is the author of the book "Thar She Blows", and has a new book listed for publication. His father was captain of the whaleship Canton out of New Bedford. Mr. Howland illustrated his talk with authentic and thrilling motion pictures and slides of old time and present day oceanic whale hunting which vividly depicted this exciting subject. Mr. Howland was accompanied by Mrs. Howland who assisted with the excellent picture material accompaniment.

Mrs. Roger Wood was hostess for the coffee hour held following the program, and was assisted by Mesdames Frank Seaver, Robert Felton and Frank T. Howland.

At the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Henry B. Smith, it was voted to donate sums to the International Scholarship sponsored by the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs and to the Children's Food

A CARD OF THANKS

For the most generous and effective support at the polls of my candidacy for reelection as Senator of the Cape and Plymouth District, I am deeply grateful.

This support was the more keenly appreciated because, until prorogation at 4:30 a.m. October 17, my first duty lay in actively attending to legislative work with little or no time for campaigning.

The election results have created the greatest incentive to continue to do, as I have always tried, my utmost for the benefit of the district and its constituents.

The older children had their party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frazer Hartley of Hartley Road. Prizes were awarded to Sue Church for the prettiest, Joanne Church for the funniest, James Hartley for the most horrible and Nancy Tuttle for the most original. All the children acted as judges. Games were played and prizes won by many of the children. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hartley, Mrs. Charles Tuttle and Mrs. Malcolm Cameron.

CUB SCOUTS HAVE HALLOWEEN PARTY

The meeting room at the Rochester Fire Station was decorated with owls, Halloween cats and orange and black streamers for the Rochester Cub Scout party. Cub Scouts dressed as tramps, pirates, ghosts, witches, caveman, Daniel Boone, Aunt Jemina, black beard, devils, frankenstein, chinese and a Klu Klux Klan figure paraded before a delighted group of parents.

Richard Nolan, Wayne Lawrence and Rufus Winsor were selected as winners by the judges, Mrs. Allen Winsor, Mrs. Peter Balzarini and Joseph A. Chamberlain.

In a novel drawing contest, all Cub Scouts were given pencil and paper, and with the lights out, they were asked to draw a witch. The winners were Curtis Savaria and Thomas Kenney, selected by Mr. and Mrs. Cranston Lynch and Mrs. Irving Ellis. Next on the program was pinning the nose on the pumpkin which was won by Daniel Ross. Next all Cub Scouts were asked to eat a cracker and the first boy to whistle was the winner. Alton Ellis accomplished this feat. All winners were given prizes by Cubmaster Nathan Lawrence.

Refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served to the Cub Scouts and parents by den Mothers, Mrs. Calvin Daggett and Mrs. Nathan
